

Bob Weiss

Bob Weiss became a gun violence survivor at 9:15pm. May 23, 2014 when his life changed forever. His 19 year-old daughter Veronika, a freshman at UC Santa Barbara, bled out on the sidewalk in front of a sorority house on the University's Greek Row. She was walking back to her sorority with her sisters, Katie, who was shot in the eye socket and died instantly, and Bianca, who sustained a gunshot wound to her kidney, and survived. Bob has first-hand experience dealing with woefully unprepared municipalities who willfully chose to believe that "it could never happen here." This lack of preparedness and protocol leads to the exploitation and abuse of the most vulnerable of us, grieving parents in shock. Since May 2014, the day after his beloved daughter was shockingly and violently taken, Bob has advocated for gun reform and survivor rights.
